About the Speaker

Holly Sisneros, M.P.H., with Public Health Views Consulting, LLC, has served in various public health and health education roles in our community for over 30 years, including 21 years with the California Department of Public Health. Holly holds a Bachelor's Degree in Social Welfare from UC Berkeley, and a Master's Degree in Public Health from San Jose State University. Through her work with the California Opioid Safety Network, Holly keeps our local public health officials updated regularly about a range of opioid-related issues, from changes in our state's health policies to addressing stigmatization of opioid use disorder.
